THE VALUE OF SOPHISTICATION

---

Porcelanosa highlights the sophistication and luxury of finishes: elegant marbles and stones and high-gloss textured ceramics combine with the different wood colors of Par-ker ceramics.

The layout design, framing the glossy textures with wood, serves to create private spaces of great beauty and exclusiveness.

Imagine, combine, mix textures and materials, create.

RENOVATED CLASSIC

Biarritz, in the Southwest of France, is a tourist resort and one of the most welcoming cities in France. This small whaling-ship port, converted in the 19th century by the grace of Empress Eugenia de Montijo, wife of Napoleon III, into a fashionable seaside resort, has managed with the passage of time, to open itself to all influences without sacrificing its own identity.

The combination of materials; white Par-Ker wood and steel-color ceramic stone create a renovated classic atmosphere, commensurate with this city's own elegance.

TRADITION AND MODERNITY

Rome is known as the "Eternal City" because time seems to have stopped in it for centuries. Its monuments and the remains of impressive buildings make a stroll through its streets turn into a travel through time, to the time of the capital's maximum splendor. Nevertheless, Rome reinvents itself every day, thus becoming a benchmark of modernity and creativity, backed by its incredible history. The combination of textures in warm beige-brown shades evokes the colors of its beautiful Trastevere streets.
